

CATHY'S VERY OWN SPICE BOYS

I'd like to introduce to you the Spice boys - Basil, Thyme and Sage. I know, I know, they are named after herbs, but whatever 😊. These little guys believe in peace, joy and anything organic. (It's legal in Canada, you know). Stayed tuned for more "colourful" adventures.

“Woowwww! Hey dudes, you should come down here and see what toes look like!”
Gnome place like home – with the Spice brothers on Cathy’s day out in Ottawa,
Ontario Canada.

" Hey dudes, did she say she wanted Irish Spring or Christmas Pine and was she talking about the color or the scent?"

“Don’t worry dude, grown women cry when they’re happy too! And I do believe she’s happy to be getting her dream machine back from the shop!”

"Whoaa dude, You fit right in"

Yep, Let's just agree with Basil that Thyme is a banana

<Wink>

Hanging out in the kitchen because there's Gnome place like home with the Spice boys - Basil, Thyme and Sage.

"Whoa dudes, the night sky is psychedelic!"

"Hey dude, nice digs!"

The spice boys, Basil, Thyme and Sage were certainly excited to hang out in my garden gnome tote bag with Gnipsy!

They think they're going to Gnome Depot....silly boys...if they had ears they would have heard Home Depot!!!

Today while I was shopping at the pet store for dog treats, the Spice Boys, Basil, Thyme and Sage, wandered off to the cat section to find some nepeta cataria. Unfortunately, they got caught by the store clerk while she was restocking the shelves.

"Whoa dude, I hope she doesn't let the cat out of the bag!"

"Whoa dude, that was some party."

"I don't remember a thing."

"Where are we?"

"Whoaa dude, is your head spinning?"

"Bloody Well Right"

Only Supertramp fans will get the second comment... 😊

"Hey man, this is the perfect time for us to meditate...Ohhhhhmmlet"

"Whoa dude, I've never been so high"

Gnome place like home, with the Spice boys, Basil, Thyme and Sage who have just reached new heights.

"Whoa dude, take us with you Cathy. We'll just chill in the tote bag." they said.
I fell for it again! Yep, the Spice boys showing their true colours!

"Hey dude, how high are you?"

"Hey dude, don't you mean, Hi, how are you?"

“Hey dudes, are you going to Scarborough Fair?”

The Spice boys enjoyed their day at Scarborough Fair and were completely blown away when they met their favourite herbs gnomes
Rosemary and her partner Elvis Parsley.

Romance is in the air as Tuesday night is date night with Cinnamon, Ginger and Peppermint aka the Spice Girls.

Wednesday's outing into the city also included once again, the Spice Boys, Basil, Sage and Thyme. This time I found them in the men's cologne section.

Ok Sweet Pea gnome addicts, amuse me, come up with your own captions in the comments below.

1, 2, 3, go...

I broke the news to Basil, Sage and Thyme that they only had two more days of being internet sensations and that it would be great if I could post a nice photo of them together. As I was checking the quality of the first photo this is what Sage pulled. Rude or funny, you decide. I wasn't amused!
